VIDEOS

Videocassettes and DVDs may be requested for specific use dates. If no use date is indicated on the request, the video will be sent immediately or, if in use, reserved and sent as soon as it is available.

The Abilene Paradox

(CRM Learning, 2002; 2nd edition; 27 minutes; closed-captioned; 1 VHS videocassette, 1 DVD, 1 CD-ROM, leader's guide, workbooks, reminder cards, poster)

A training package in which management consultant Jerry B. Harvey uses a parable about a family trip to Abilene, Texas, to look at group dynamics and group decision-making. The program illustrates the paradoxical nature of mismanaged agreement, describes symptoms of the paradox, probes the reasons behind the behavior, and offers strategies for eliminating collective decision-making confusion. The program may be viewed on VHS or DVD. (VHS V-7453)

Look Out for Your Laptop! Information Security and Laptop Theft Prevention

(Commonwealth Films, 2001; 1 VHS videocassette: 17 minutes, closed – captioned; with guide)

Tells of the prevalence of laptop computer theft and presents some practical tips for preventing it. Describes costs of laptop theft, loss, and damage, including reconstructing lost data, loss of confidential information, and replacement of expensive computers.
