

GENERAL INFORMATION

Library System

South Central Library System

Describe demographic, economic, and other facts about your system that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

The South Central Library System is composed of Adams, Columbia, Dane, Green, Portage, Sauk and Wood Counties. These counties include more than 813,000 people, with the majority residing in Dane County. System population density ranges from sparse rural to dense urban. Municipalities vary greatly in size, from villages with populations in the hundreds to the city of Madison, which contains 29% of the entire population of the system. There are strong municipal public libraries, many of which have existed for a century or more, in all of our member counties. The South Central area also contains several hundred other libraries of all types, the largest being the libraries on the campus of the University of Wisconsin-Madison

All residents of the SCLS area have access to good library service. Dane County has offered a high level of public library service since the mid-1960s. Communities in Sauk, Green and Columbia Counties continue to strengthen their libraries. Adams County is a consolidated county library service, except for the independent library in the Town of Rome. Wood County has several strong medium-sized public libraries and a tradition of interlibrary cooperation within the county. Portage County Public Library, a consolidated county, except for the independent library in the Village of Amherst, joined LINKCat, the SCLS shared catalog in 2014.

Describe significant needs and problems that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

State aid to the system remains flat for the fourth year. Interest income has decreased steadily while rent, technology and contracted services costs have risen. Over the past 18 months SCLS and its members have overhauled their internal cost formula which allocates annual fees for supporting the shared ILS and technology services. One result is that SCLS will be contributing even more state aid to support technology for its members. A second result is that members will have more flexibility or choices in what services they would like to receive.

The plan for 2015 evolves as our members struggle financially to survive, much less thrive, in these economic times. In 2015 SCLS member under the revised WPLC Digital Buying Pool formula will be paying more for their same access to OverDrive. The large variety of public libraries contained within the SCLS with their corresponding variety of priorities and needs is a benefit and challenge. This is and will be the same challenge for the state as it works to implement the 2013 SRLAAW Standards among all the systems and vision future service throughout the state.

The SCLS plan will continue to focus on implementing the 2013 System Standards adopted by SRLAAW. SCLS is working to become as compact and efficient as possible while still providing services that are important to its members in preparation for major shifts in the way systems may provide services to its members as suggested by COLAND, SRLAAW and DPI's LEAN study recommendations. In preparation of change and the pursuit of efficiency, SCLS has contracts with 3 neighboring systems to collaborate on youth services and continuing education. SCLS will continue to provide statewide delivery service while working with others to research other service models in an effort to improve services.

Describe the planning environment and process under which this and other system plans were developed. (List additional system planning documents with the period covered and attach any planning documents which have not previously been provided to the division.)

SCLS seeks input from member libraries, both formally and informally, during planning processes and throughout the year. Each month, we have an Administrative Council (AC) meeting where representatives of all the SCLS libraries come together to discuss issues brought forth by SCLS and by the member libraries. The representatives have two-year terms, with 1/2 of the body elected each year. The AC reviews system services and activities throughout the year, and reviews the entire annual system plan and budget each year before it is submitted to DLT. Four times a year, special meetings of the AC, called All-Directors meetings, bring together all of the directors of the public libraries in SCLS to collaborate on budgets, system priorities and fees for the coming year. The budget developed by SCLS is based on these fees, and all libraries have the opportunity to review the plan and budget prior to the meetings.

There are two committees that report to the AC:

1. Delivery Committee (DC)
2. Technology Committee (TC).

Both are similarly structured to the AC, with libraries represented by individuals elected to the committee. These committees and the AC may form workgroups as appropriate to work on tasks. There are two standing subcommittees that report to the AC:

1. Library Innovation SubCommittee
2. Interlibrary Loan Subcommittee

A third committee, the ILS Committee (IC) exists to make decisions about the shared integrated library system. There are three standing subcommittees that report to the IC:

1. Collection Maintenance Subcommittee
2. Circulation Services Subcommittee
3. PAC Subcommittee

SCLS works to develop multi-type cooperation and partnerships throughout the system. SCLS funds a multitype coordinator to develop and manage our multi-type activities. She acts as the official representative for the multi-type libraries at committee meetings.

SCLS staff maintain constant contact with member libraries on an individual basis as well as through the groups described above. Member libraries are encouraged to offer feedback on programs and individual staff performance through email lists and web forms. SCLS staff also ask for more formal feedback on various topics. These include an online bi-weekly newsletter, a weekly email notice, and the wide dissemination of information of all sorts pertinent to system operations through email and our website, which includes blogs and wikis. Every member library is visited annually by a SCLS staff member to review the service they receive from the system.

The final element in our planning process is our System Board. This board meets monthly and has standing subcommittees for Budget and Finance, Personnel, Bylaws, and Advocacy. The Board receives and reviews all the completed planning data from members and staff, and has the final authority over all system policies and documents that are submitted to DLT.

Central to our planning environment is our mission statement, staff values, and our system principles. In 2014 a new 3 year strategic plan was created with input from all levels within the system. SCLS will continue to evolve and grow and become what we need to be to fulfill our mission of helping our member libraries provide the best possible service to their public.
