

Debbie Stanislawski

Business, Marketing, and Information Technology
State Superintendent Advisory Council

Program Director of Marketing & Business Education at University of Wisconsin-Stout

“The preparation for a career utilizing a comprehensive program design can catapult today's youth into early success in the workforce. When students have had curriculum based work-based learning opportunities, they have the ability to easily make connections between theory to the world of work.”

