

Jane Weiss

Business, Marketing, and Information Technology
State Superintendent Advisory Council

Representative of the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants (WICPA)

“Business, marketing & information technology education is relevant to the development of leaders and builders of all types of organizations who create value for various stakeholders and society at large.”

