

USDA regulations

Require sponsors with 50 or more family day care homes (FDCH) to work a minimum number of hours annually on monitoring responsibilities.

→ At minimum, one (1) Full Time Equivalent (FTE) of monitoring hours, or 2080 hours per year, are required for every 150 sponsored home providers.

State Agency Factor

USDA required the state agency (DPI) to establish a weighted factor to require additional monitoring time related to different challenges. WI's State Agency Factor adds more monitoring hours for rural providers.

Providers who reside in rural counties:

Additional amount of monitoring time for rural providers is factored in based on more time required for driving and preparation. The WI State Agency Factor for each sponsor is calculated by the percentage of the sponsor's total number of providers located in rural counties within their service area.

FDCH Sponsor Contract Renewal

- The Monitoring Ratios page reflects time study information completed during the FFY preceding the upcoming contract renewal year.
 - Do not make any changes to this page once it is approved as part of the contract renewal.
- The other contract pages reflect the most current information and projections for the upcoming contract renewal year.

The responsibilities reflected within the Monitoring Ratios page for each staff and their respective uploaded job descriptions may be different from the Staffing Personnel page, projected labor costs in the Budget page, and job descriptions uploaded into the Financial Management Plan Documents page.

For each annual contract renewal:

Sponsors must update the following information for each staff position that completed any CACFP monitoring-related tasks based on their time studies/timesheet documentation during the preceding FFY. For example, hours entered into the 2025 contract renewal must be based on time studies completed during FFY 2024.

- If time studies could not be completed because of staff change-over, therefore resulting in a substantial deficit in total hours spent on monitoring tasks, use the staff's time sheets as a source to extrapolate the amount they spent on each category of tasks.
- Contact your assigned consultant if other circumstances have affected the accuracy of the time study information.
- Staff position title and name of those who completed or represent the time study documentation during the preceding fiscal year
 - If the positions for staff who completed the time studies are vacant when completing the contract renewal, enter "Vacant" in the 'First Name' or 'Last Name' field. Still list yearly hours information from the time study completed by that staff.
- Yearly hours per time studies completed during the preceding fiscal year:
Total Hours; Total Non-CACFP Hours; Total CACFP Non-Monitoring Hours, and Total CACFP Monitoring Hours
- Job descriptions in effect when time studies were completed

NOTE: Sponsors are not required to list the percentage of time devoted to responsibilities within their job descriptions for monitoring ratio documentation purposes. (DPI required this in the past.)

➤ Unless you will be updating these listed percentages after every time study is completed so they remain current and then uploading these updated job descriptions into your contract, do not list percentages on the job descriptions.

Time Studies/Time Sheet Documentation

Sponsors must maintain documentation of staff time spent on monitoring, non-monitoring, and non-CACFP tasks as verification of meeting the USDA monitoring requirements. This documentation must be used to update the Monitoring Ratios page in the sponsor's FDCH Contract each year.

Documentation of staff's time spent on each category of tasks (monitoring, non-monitoring, and non-CACFP) may be in the form of time studies or time sheets. The sponsor must calculate the total number of hours spent by each staff on each category of tasks from their completed time study or timesheets and convert them to annual amounts to be reported on the Monitoring Ratios page.

- Time studies: Each staff assigned monitoring-related tasks records actual time spent on each task for a defined period of time
- Timesheets (completed for payroll purposes): Sponsors can use them instead of having staff complete time studies if time spent on each category of tasks is recorded.

Follow the criteria listed below to establish staff procedures for completing time studies:

Set Time, Frequency, and Duration

- Select times that most accurately represent the actual time spent on all assigned tasks;
- Frequency – must be no less than one time per year; and
- Duration – must be no less than a 4-week period

Establish Guidelines

Establish the following guidelines with staff to prevent the data from being skewed:

- Clearly identify tasks in 1 of 3 categories: monitoring, non-monitoring, or non-CACFP related tasks;
- Record all tasks completed during the entire work day (from start to end time); and
- Do not record time spent on breaks (i.e., lunch), vacation, holidays, and sick leave

Provide Instruction and Oversight

- Before the start date of each time study period, train and provide staff with instructions on the information that must be recorded; and
- Check each staff's completed time study soon after they have started and throughout to make sure they are recording the required information

Compile Time Study Information (to be reported on the Monitoring Ratios page)

- Compile the total number of hours spent on each category of tasks (monitoring, non-monitoring, and non-CACFP) from each staff's completed time studies;
- Convert these total hours to annual amounts based on the total number of hours each staff works per year; and
- Retain your working papers showing the calculations of each staff's hours
