

The event will be held on March 4, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the University of Wisconsin Madison-Union South as in 2015.

Each school may register up to five students and two educators to participate in this event. The non-refundable registration fee is $10 per person and includes refreshments and lunch. We have space for approximately 160 students and 64 adults. As in past years, different programs will be developed for students and educators.

The summit is designed for high school students who want to build upon their international interests. They will interact with college students all day in discussion, language learning and cultural presentations. Educators will discuss implementation strategies and ideas for the Global Education Achievement Certificate in parallel sessions.

Detailed information about the summit will be posted at www.globalwisconsin.org as we solidify the agendas. You and your students may want to look at information posted for the 2015 Summit for a better understanding of what to expect.

Registration will close when the event is full or on Friday, January 20, 2017, whichever comes first.

You will be asked to enter your contact information and method of payment. You can add more participants online and either enter e-mail contact information for each participant or use one point of contact email address for the entire group.

Contact Candice McCann at candice.mccann@dpi.wi.gov with any questions about this process.

Note that the 2017 Global Youth Summit is a collaboration between the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and the following departments at the University of Wisconsin-Madison:

- International Reach (<https://iss.wisc.edu/reach/about.htm>)
- IRIS – Institute for Regional and International Studies (<http://iris.wisc.edu/>)
- The Language Institute (<http://www.languageinstitute.wisc.edu/>)

