

GENERAL INFORMATION

Library System

South Central Library System

Describe demographic, economic, and other facts about your system that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

The South Central Library System (SCLS) is composed of Adams, Columbia, Dane, Green, Portage, Sauk and Wood Counties. SCLS provides service to 54 public library members with 65 sites. The counties include more than 837,000 people, with the majority residing in Dane County. System population density ranges from sparse rural to dense urban. Municipalities vary greatly in size, from villages with populations in the hundreds to the city of Madison, which contains 29% of the entire population of the system. There are strong municipal public libraries, many of which have existed for a century or more, in all of our member counties. There are also very small rural libraries that struggle annually to keep their doors open. The South Central area also contains several hundred other libraries of all types, the largest being the libraries on the campus of the University of Wisconsin-Madison

All residents of the SCLS area have access to good library service. Adams County is a consolidated county library service, except for the independent library in the Town of Rome. Portage County Public Library is also a consolidated county library service, except for the independent library in the Village of Amherst. Wood County has several strong medium-sized public libraries and a tradition of interlibrary cooperation within the county. Columbia, Dane, Green and Sauk counties each provide strong support for their many libraries.

Forty six of the members share the integrated library system, LINKCat, while the remaining eight members use stand alone systems. The Charles & JoAnn Lester Library of Nekoosa will be joining LINKCat in 2017.

Describe significant needs and problems that influenced the development of this and other system plans.

A continuing challenge for SCLS is responding to the many service priorities of the different SCLS member libraries. For example, the Madison Public Library has technologically advanced customers who demand instant downloads while Adams County has areas with zero internet connectivity and other areas with only limited bandwidth. Nearly one third of the SCLS library directors work part time and retention is difficult.

The SCLS plan will continue to focus on implementing the 2013 System Standards adopted by SRLAAW and working on COLAND's Strategic Vision for Library Systems through the Public Library System Redesign Project. SCLS is providing 14 volunteers to serve on the various work groups. The merger of the Mid-Wisconsin Federated Library System and the Eastern Shores Library System has impacted SCLS by changing the cost and structure of its state-wide delivery service in 2017. SCLS will reorganize its Delivery staffing to accommodate the elimination of a system without negatively affecting the cost to the remaining systems. SCLS will also begin contract renewal talks with the University of Wisconsin- Madison in 2017 since their delivery service contract will expire December 31, 2017.

Describe the planning environment and process under which this and other system plans were developed. Include how member libraries are involved in plan development and review and whether your systems has a formally appointed advisory committee. (List additional system planning documents with the period covered and attach any planning documents which have not previously been provided to the division.)

SCLS seeks input from member libraries, both formally and informally, during planning processes and throughout the year. Each month, we have an Administrative Council (AC) meeting where representatives of all the SCLS libraries come together to discuss issues brought forth by SCLS and by the member libraries. The representatives have two-year terms, with 1/2 of the body elected each year. The AC reviews system services and activities throughout the year, and reviews the entire annual system plan and budget each year before it is submitted to DLT. Four times a year, special meetings of the AC, called All-Directors meetings, bring together all of the directors of the public libraries in SCLS to collaborate on budgets, system priorities and fees for the coming year. The budget developed by SCLS is based on these fees, and all libraries have the opportunity to review the plan and budget prior to the meetings.

There are two committees that report to the AC:

1. Delivery Committee (DC)
2. Technology Committee (TC).

Both are similarly structured to the AC, with libraries represented by individuals elected to the committee. These committees and the AC may form workgroups as appropriate to work on tasks. There are two standing subcommittees that report to the AC:

1. Library Innovation SubCommittee
2. Interlibrary Loan Subcommittee

A third committee, the ILS Committee (IC) exists to make decisions about the shared integrated library system. There are three standing subcommittees that report to the IC:

1. Collection Maintenance Subcommittee
2. Circulation Services Subcommittee
3. PAC Subcommittee

SCLS works to develop multi-type cooperation and partnerships throughout the system. SCLS funds a multi-type coordinator to develop and manage our multi-type activities. She acts as the official representative for the multi-type libraries at committee meetings.

SCLS staff maintain constant contact with member libraries on an individual basis as well as through the groups described above. Member libraries are encouraged to offer feedback on programs and individual staff performance through email lists and web forms. SCLS staff also ask for more formal feedback on various topics. These include an online bi-weekly newsletter, a weekly email notice, and the wide dissemination of information of all sorts pertinent to system operations through email and our website, which includes blogs and wikis. Every member library is visited annually by a SCLS staff member to review the service they receive from the system.

The final element in our planning process is our System Board. This board meets monthly and has standing subcommittees for Budget and Finance, Personnel, Bylaws, and Advocacy. The Board receives and reviews all the completed planning data from members and staff, and has the final authority over all system policies and documents that are submitted to the Division for Libraries and Technology.

Central to our planning environment is our mission statement, staff values, and our system principles. SCLS uses staff created quality standards for its Exceptional Service Program. The standards are based on the pillars of relationship; helpfulness; efficiency and creativity in all service matters. SCLS will continue to evolve to fulfill our mission of helping our member libraries provide the best possible service to their public.
