

DPI's School Nutrition Team Announces A Special Training Opportunity for Employees Working in a Residential Child Care Institution (RCCI)

This training is designed to assist staff in understanding the requirements for operating a successful child nutrition program in the RCCI setting. Participants will learn the administrative and regulatory requirements of U.S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA's) Child Nutrition Program along with techniques and tips for successful management of daily meal service. If you are responsible for operating any area of the USDA Child Nutrition Program in your facility, please consider joining us for this training.
