

Choice School Staff Credentials

All private schools participating in the Private School Choice Programs (PSCP) must ensure that their administrators, teachers and teacher aides meet the following requirements. PSCP schools that fail to meet these requirements may be terminated from the PSCP.

Requirements

Administrators: All choice administrators must have at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education or a teaching license or administrator's license issued by the department. Administrator is defined as superintendent, supervising principal, executive director or other person who acts as the administrative head of the private school participating in the program.

Teachers: All choice teachers must have a teaching license issued by the department or at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education. Teacher is defined under current law to mean a person who has primary responsibility for the academic instruction of pupils.

Teacher Aides: Each private school shall ensure that any teacher's aide employed by the private school has at least graduated from high school, has been granted a general educational development (GED) or high school equivalency diploma (HSED), or has been granted a high school diploma by the administrator of a home-based private education program.

Rabbinical Studies Exception to teacher and administrator credentials: A teacher employed by a choice school who teaches only courses in rabbinical studies is not required to meet the bachelor's degree requirement for teachers. An administrator of a choice school that prepares and trains pupils attending the school in rabbinical studies is not required to meet the bachelor's degree requirement for administrators.

Documentation

A choice school must have the following documents in each administrator, teacher and teacher aide's personnel file. Schools should request the documents prior to hiring an administrator, teacher or teacher aide. The school's auditor will be required to review the documentation and report the school's compliance or noncompliance to the department as part of the Fiscal and Internal Control Practices Report due annually on December 15.

Administrator: A copy of a current teaching license or administrator's license issued by the department, or a copy of at least a bachelor's degree or official transcript indicating the administrator received at least a bachelor's degree, and a copy of the US Department of Education webpage <http://ope.ed.gov/accreditation/> indicating the institution which granted the degree is accredited.

Teacher: A copy of a current teaching license issued by the department, or a copy of at least a bachelor's degree or official transcript indicating the teacher received at least bachelor's degree and a copy of the US Department of Education webpage <http://ope.ed.gov/accreditation/> indicating the institution which granted the bachelor's degree is accredited.

Teacher Aide: A copy of at least a high school diploma, a letter from a high school stating that the individual graduated, an identification of high school graduation on a high school, college or other post-secondary educational agency transcript, a copy of a high school equivalency diploma (HSED) granted by the Department of Public Instruction (DPI), a copy of the certificate of general educational development (GED) or an equivalent credential granted by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction or another state, or documentation from the administrator of a home-based private educational program stating that the individual graduated.

Overseas Institutions

If a degree is from an overseas institution, the administrator or teacher must have his or her transcripts of credit, pattern of training, and degrees awarded evaluated by a professional evaluation service. Only through this detailed or course-by-course evaluation process can it be determined if foreign preparation is equivalent to a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education.

The administrator or teacher must contact a private agency for an assessment of his or her credentials in terms of degree, course equivalence and translation of course titles. Wisconsin Administrative PI 35.16(4) and PI 48.16(4) require individuals to have the degree or educational credential, transcripts, and pattern of training evaluated by one of the following professional evaluation services to determine if the degree or credential is equivalent to a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education in the United States: (a) Educational Credential Evaluators, Inc.; (b) Academic and Credential Records Evaluation and Verification Service (ACREVS); or (c) the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers and any other organization members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services \(NACES\) or the Association of International Credentials Evaluators \(AICE\).

The school and teacher or administrator must carefully review the credential evaluation report prepared by the evaluation service to make sure it indicates the administrator or teacher earned the equivalent of a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education. The school must retain a copy of the report for auditor review.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q1. Are substitute teachers required to have a bachelor's degree?

A1. Yes, if they have primary responsibility for the academic instruction of pupils.

Q2. Is it sufficient to obtain evidence of a college degree for a teacher's aide?

A2. Yes, the law requires that each private school shall ensure that any teacher's aide employed by the private school has at least graduated from high school or been granted a general educational development

(GED) or high school equivalency diploma (HSED), or been granted a high school diploma by the administrator of a home-based private educational program.

Q3. Is it sufficient to obtain evidence that a teacher has a master's degree from an accredited college rather than obtaining evidence of a bachelor's degree?

A3. Yes, the law requires all PSCP teachers to have at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education.

Q4. What should the school do if the institution of higher education does not show up on the US Department of Education webpage when you know the institution is accredited?

A4. Make sure the institution's name is spelled correctly. Do not use abbreviations. For example, a search using "UW Madison" will provide no results; however, if you type "University of Wisconsin Madison" the search will work. You may also try searching just the main word of the institution's name. If you continue to have problems, please contact the DPI at PrivateSchoolChoice@dpi.wi.gov or 1-888-245-2732 ext. 3 for assistance.

Q5. What if the school closed or lost its accreditation status.

A5. Please contact the DPI at PrivateSchoolChoice@dpi.wi.gov or 1-888-245-2732 ext. 3 for assistance.

Q6. Can a school have more than one administrator?

A6. Yes. Administrator is defined as superintendent, supervising principal, executive director or other person who acts as the administrative head of the private school participating in the program. A school may have both a choice administrator and supervising principal and both individuals would be required to have at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution of higher education.

Q7. How can I verify if an applicant has a current Wisconsin teaching or administrator license?

A7. Check the DPI online database for Education Licensing at <https://elo.wieducatorlicensing.org/datamart/publicSearchMenu.do>.
