

This guide is designed to align with the CCR IEP 5 beliefs and 5 step process. This guide is meant to be used as a tool to facilitate positive IEP meeting conversations and offer schools strategies to engage with families during the IEP process.

General Tips when working with families:

- Be sensitive to families relative to where families may be in the grieving process.
- Strive to understand the whole child and family.
- Focus on descriptions, not labels.
- Connect school with learning at home.
- Use active listening.
- Ensure all communications are in a language families understand and communication is two-way.

Prior to meeting

- Ensure that families have input into the time and place that the meeting will be held
- Ask the family if a pre-meeting between the family and a trusted staff member is needed so that information can be shared in a comfortable environment.
- Co-construct an IEP meeting agenda with the family. Once the agenda is developed, send it out in advance of the meeting.
- Invite student when appropriate
- Share a form, such as the Family Student Snapshot or My Snapshot, with both staff and families asking for thoughts/ideas/concerns that would benefit the upcoming meeting and to allow for a better understanding of the student.
 - Share the forms in a way that is meaningful and relevant to the family.
 - Offer assistance to family and students to fill out
 - When you give this form to the family, acknowledge the family as the expert on their child and that you value their input.
- Make sure that the family has a copy of the most current IEP. Encourage the family to review before the meeting. Send any reports prior to the meeting so they are able to review and prepare questions.
- Connect with family to address any family questions regarding reports, logistics, etc.
- Share resources with families that will help them prepare for the IEP meeting, such as Preparing for the IEP Meeting or the WI FACETS IEP Checklist. Encourage family's independence and advocacy by sharing additional special education resources such as An Introduction to Special Education and Special Education in Plain Language

Day of the meeting -Make the family feel welcome

- Prepare office staff to welcome the family and to direct the family and agency partners.
- Prepare name tags for all members.
- Greet everyone and call them by their preferred name.

- Have water and tissues available.
- Be aware and responsive to the unique culture and circumstances of the family.
- Consider projecting the IEP form onto a screen so that all team members can view and write the draft of the IEP as discussion takes place
- Introductions, Celebrations - As IEP members introduce themselves, have them share a strength, positive experience or an accomplishment of the student to build positive relationships among the team
- Overview - purpose of meeting, establish norms/time parameters
- Convey to families how important their presence and input will be to developing a comprehensive IEP. Families are equal partners in the process.
- Take some time to explain the Communication Options for Families form

Provide a draft copy of the IEP to the family before ending and thank everyone for their participation.

Follow up to meeting

- Review completed IEP with the family to ensure full understanding. Ask the family if they are satisfied? Overwhelmed?
- Provide parents a copy of the student's schedule with times and places.
- Share a list of community agencies that offer support to families of children with disabilities.
- Make positive phone calls and send positive emails to family
- Check in with the family on their perspective of progress, how things are going.
- Follow up with ways that the family can support goals at home throughout the year
