THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

In the Matter of the Expulsion of D. R. by Flambeau School District Board of Education	DECISION AND ORDER Appeal No.: 06-EX-15

NATURE OF THE APPEAL

This is an appeal to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction pursuant to Wis. Stats. § 120.13(1)(c) from the order of the Flambeau School District Board of Education to expel the above-named pupil from the Flambeau School District. This appeal was filed by the pupil and received by the Department of Public Instruction on September 18, 2006.

In accordance with the provisions of Wis. Adm. Code § PI 1.04(5), this Decision and Order is confined to a review of the record of the school board hearing. The state superintendent's review authority is specified in § 120.13(1)(c). The state superintendent's role is to ensure that the required statutory procedures were followed, that the school board's decision was based upon one or more of the established statutory grounds, and that the school board was satisfied that the interest of the school district demands that the student be expelled.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The record contains a letter entitled "Notice of Expulsion Hearing," dated April 12, 2006, from the principal of the Flambeau School District. The letter advised a hearing would be held on April 25, 2006 that could result in the pupil's expulsion from the Flambeau School District through the pupil's 21st birthday. The letter was sent separately to the pupil and his parents by certified mail. The letter alleged that the pupil engaged in conduct while at school or under the supervision of school authority which endangered the property, health, or safety of others. The letter specifically alleged that on April 10, 2006, he distributed and consumed alcohol while on the school bus on the way to school.

The hearing was held in closed session on April 25, 2006. The pupil and his parents appeared at the hearing without counsel. At the hearing, the school district administration presented evidence concerning the grounds for expulsion. The pupil and his parents were given the opportunity to present evidence, to cross-examine witnesses, and to respond to the allegations.

After the hearing, the school board deliberated in closed session. The board found the pupil did engage in conduct while at school or while under the supervision of a school authority which endangered the property, health, or safety of others. The school board further found that the interests of the school demand the student's expulsion. The order for expulsion containing the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the school board, dated April 25, 2006, was mailed separately to the pupil and his parents. The order stated the pupil was expelled through the 2006-07 school year. Minutes of the school board expulsion hearing are part of the record.

DISCUSSION

School districts are limited-purpose municipal corporations and have only such powers as are conferred specifically by statute or are necessarily implied therefrom. Iverson v. Union Free High School District, 186 Wis. 342, 353, 202 N.W. 788 (1925). A school board's power to expel students derives from § 120.13(1)(c), which establishes certain categories of offenses that may be the basis for an expulsion and sets out specific procedures that must be followed in the expulsion process.

In reviewing an appeal of an expulsion decision, the Wisconsin Court of Appeals has stated that the scope of the state superintendent's review is limited to that set out in § 120.13(1)(c). In Racine Unified School District v. Thompson, 107 Wis. 2d 657, 667, 321 N.W. 2d 334 (1982), the court of appeals in dicta stated: "The superintendent's review, then, would be one to insure that the school board followed the procedural mandates of subsection (c) concerning notice, right to counsel, etc." Id. In a related context, the court of appeals ruled this dictum has now become "embedded in Wisconsin school law." Madison Metropolitan School District (Lenny G.) v. Wis. D.P.I., 199 Wis. 2d 1, 543 N.W. 2d 843 (1995). It is, therefore, incumbent upon the state superintendent in reviewing an expulsion decision to ensure that the required statutory procedures were followed, that the school board's decision is based upon one of the established statutory grounds, and that the school board is satisfied that the interests of the school district demand the pupil's expulsion.

The appeal letter in this case alleges that there was insufficient evidence to support the finding that the pupil distributed and consumed alcohol and that the school board treated the pupil unfairly by giving him a harsher penalty than other students involved.

It has been repeatedly held that arguments concerning the sufficiency of the evidence are generally beyond the scope of review. Leo P. v. Whitewater Unified School District, Decision and Order No. 351 (March 31, 1998); Brent S. v. Mondovi School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 290 (May 23, 1996); Brad A. v. Boyceville Community School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 233 (June 29, 1994); and Taiwan O. W. v. Kenosha Unified School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 186 (April 7, 1992).

Further, a school board's findings will be upheld if any reasonable view of the evidence sustains them. Leo P. v. Whitewater Unified School District, Decision and Order No. 351 (March 31, 1998); Daniel A. v. Mauston School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 324 (May 8, 1997); Courtney R. v. Germantown School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 278 (March 21, 1996); and Michael Ryan H. v. Clinton Community School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 222 (March 10, 1994).

In this case, the board heard evidence that the pupil told others that he had vodka in the Mountain Dew Vault bottle he brought on the bus. One of the co-actors admitted that the pupil told him there was alcohol in it and that he drank some. The pupil testified that he told people it was vodka as a joke. The board then decided which version to believe and they chose not to believe the accused pupil. The board was in the best position to resolve this conflict in testimony. It was within the board's discretion to give weight to the evidence and arguments, as it deemed appropriate and to judge the credibility of witnesses. See e.g. State ex rel. DeLuca v. Common Council, 72 Wis. 2d 672, 242 N.W. 2d 689 (1976); State ex rel. Wasilewski v. Board of School Directors, 14 Wis. 2d 243, 111 N.W. 2d 198 (1961). See also Jeremy B. v. Waukesha School District Board of Education, Decision and Order 395 (August 16, 1999); Tracy M. v. Random Lake School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 244 (January 11, 1995); and Kathleen W. v. Tri-County Area School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 130 (May 10, 1985).

Because expulsions are considered on a case-by-case basis, the treatment of other students is not relevant to this review. See Aron P. v. Sturgeon Bay School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 341 (December 17, 1997); Nathaniel S. v. Wausau School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 350 (March 25, 1998); and Leo P. v. Whitewater School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 351 (March 31, 1998). Furthermore, since the authority to “approve, reverse or modify the decision” was conferred upon the state superintendent by 1987 Wis. Act 88, § 3, the state superintendent has consistently declined to modify the length of expulsions. David D. v. Central High School District of Westosha Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 429 (January 25, 2001); Tony R. v. Lake Geneva Joint No. 1 School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 294 (June 24, 1996); Brandon H. v. DeSoto Area School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 206 (May 3, 1993). The school board is in the best position to judge the demeanor of witnesses as well as to know and understand what its community requires as a response to school misconduct. It would be inappropriate for me, absent an extraordinary circumstance or a violation of procedural requirements, to second-guess the appropriateness of a school board's determination. In reviewing this case, I do not see the extraordinary circumstance or procedural violation that causes me to modify the pupil's expulsion period.

In reviewing the record in this case, I find the school district did comply with all of the procedural requisites. I, therefore, affirm this expulsion.

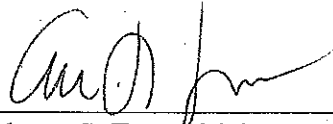

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Based upon my review of the record in this case and the findings set out above, I conclude that the school board did comply with all of the procedural requirements of §120.13(1)(c).

ORDER

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the expulsion of D [redacted] by the Flambeau School District Board of Education is affirmed.

Dated this 15th day of November, 2006.
