

THE STATE OF WISCONSIN

THE STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

In the Matter of the Expulsion of R . . . S. by Racine Unified School District Board of Education	DECISION AND ORDER Appeal No.: 07 EX 09

NATURE OF THE APPEAL

This is an appeal to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction pursuant to Wis. Stats. § 120.13(1)(c) from the order of the Racine Unified School District Board of Education to expel the above-named pupil from the Racine Unified School District. This appeal was filed by the pupil and received by the Department of Public Instruction on April 23, 2007.

In accordance with the provisions of Wis. Adm. Code § PI 1.04(5), this Decision and Order is confined to a review of the record of the school board hearing. The state superintendent's review authority is specified in § 120.13(1)(c). The state superintendent's role is to ensure that the required statutory procedures were followed, that the school board's decision was based upon one or more of the established statutory grounds, and that the school board was satisfied that the interest of the school district demands that the student be expelled.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The record contains a letter entitled "Notice of Expulsion Hearing," dated March 16, 2007, from the middle school principal at the Racine Unified School District. The letter advised a hearing would be held on March 26, 2007 that could result in the pupil's expulsion from the Racine Unified School District through the pupil's 21st birthday. The letter was sent separately to the pupil and his parents by mail. The letter alleged that the pupil engaged in conduct while at school or under the supervision of school authority which endangered the property, health, or safety of others. The letter specifically alleged that the pupil engaged in chronic behavior and sexual classroom harassment ("un-welcomed sexual behavior") contrary to school district policy.

The hearing was held in closed session before an independent hearing officer on March 26, 2007. The pupil and his parents appeared at the hearing without counsel. At the hearing, the school district administration presented evidence concerning the grounds for expulsion. The pupil and his parents were given the opportunity to present evidence, to cross-examine witnesses, and to respond to the allegations.

After the hearing, the hearing officer issued his decision. The hearing officer found the pupil did engage in conduct while at school or while under the supervision of a school authority which endangered the property, health, or safety of others. He further found that the interests of the school demand the student's expulsion. The order for expulsion containing the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the school board, dated March 26, 2007, was mailed separately to the pupil and his parents. The order stated the pupil was expelled through January 25, 2008 with an opportunity for early readmission at the beginning of the 2007-08 school year. An audiotape of the expulsion hearing is part of the record. The school board met on April 2, 2007 and in executive session approved the student expulsion decisions referred to it.

DISCUSSION

School districts are limited-purpose municipal corporations and have only such powers as are conferred specifically by statute or are necessarily implied therefrom. Iverson v. Union Free

High School District, 186 Wis. 342, 353, 202 N.W. 788 (1925). A school board's power to expel students derives from § 120.13(1)(c), which establishes certain categories of offenses that may be the basis for an expulsion and sets out specific procedures that must be followed in the expulsion process.

In reviewing an appeal of an expulsion decision, the Wisconsin Court of Appeals has stated that the scope of the state superintendent's review is limited to that set out in § 120.13(1)(c). In Racine Unified School District v. Thompson, 107 Wis. 2d 657, 667, 321 N.W. 2d 334 (1982), the court of appeals in dicta stated: "The superintendent's review, then, would be one to insure that the school board followed the procedural mandates of subsection (c) concerning notice, right to counsel, etc." Id. In a related context, the court of appeals ruled this dictum has now become "embedded in Wisconsin school law." Madison Metropolitan School District (Lenny G.) v. Wis. D.P.I., 199 Wis. 2d 1, 543 N.W. 2d 843 (1995). It is, therefore, incumbent upon the state superintendent in reviewing an expulsion decision to ensure that the required statutory procedures were followed, that the school board's decision is based upon one of the established statutory grounds, and that the school board is satisfied that the interests of the school district demand the pupil's expulsion.

The appeal letter in this case asks for the pupil to be given a chance now that his medications have been changed. Since the authority to "approve, reverse or modify the decision" was conferred upon the state superintendent by 1987 Wis. Act 88, § 3, the state superintendent has consistently declined to modify the length of expulsions. David D. v. Central High School District of Westosha Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 429 (January 25, 2001); Tony R. v. Lake Geneva Joint No. 1 School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 294 (June 24, 1996); Brandon H. v. DeSoto Area School District Board of Education,

Decision and Order No. 206 (May 3, 1993). The school board is in the best position to judge the demeanor of witnesses as well as to know and understand what its community requires as a response to school misconduct. It would be inappropriate for me, absent an extraordinary circumstance or a violation of procedural requirements, to second-guess the appropriateness of a school board's determination. I also note that the pupil is given the opportunity for early readmission at the beginning of the upcoming school year if certain conditions are met.

In reviewing this case, I do not see the extraordinary circumstance or procedural violation that causes me to modify the pupil's expulsion period. I find the school district did comply with all of the procedural requisites. I, therefore, affirm this expulsion.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Based upon my review of the record in this case and the findings set out above, I conclude that the school board did comply with all of the procedural requirements of §120.13(1)(c).
