NATURE OF THE APPEAL

This is an appeal to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction pursuant to Wis. Stats. § 120.13(1)(c) from the order of the Beloit Turner School District Board of Education to expel the above-named pupil from the Beloit Turner School District. This appeal was filed by the pupil and received by the Department of Public Instruction on April 1, 2010.

In accordance with the provisions of Wis. Adm. Code § PI 1.04(5), this Decision and Order is confined to a review of the record of the school board hearing. The state superintendent's review authority is specified in § 120.13(1)(c). The state superintendent's role is to ensure that the required statutory procedures were followed, that the school board's decision was based upon one or more of the established statutory grounds, and that the school board was satisfied that the interest of the school district demands that the student be expelled.

FINDINGS OF FACT

The record contains a letter entitled "Notice of Expulsion Hearing," dated February 22, 2010, from the district administrator of the Beloit Turner School District. The letter advised that a hearing would be held on March 3, 2010 that could result in the pupil's expulsion from the Beloit Turner School District through his 21st birthday. The letter was sent separately to the pupil and his parent by certified mail. The letter alleged that the pupil engaged in conduct while at school or under the supervision of school authority which endangered the property, health, or safety of others. The letter specifically alleged that the pupil was in possession of marijuana on school grounds with the intent to deliver on February 19, 2010.

The hearing was held in closed session on March 3, 2010. The pupil and his parent did not appear at the hearing. At the hearing, the school district administration presented evidence concerning the grounds for expulsion.

After the hearing, the school board deliberated in closed session. The board found that the pupil did engage in conduct while at school or while under the supervision of a school authority which endangered the property, health, or safety of others. The school board further found that the interests of the school demand the student's expulsion. The order for expulsion containing the findings of fact and conclusions of law of the school board, dated March 3, 2010, was mailed separately to the pupil and his parent. The order stated that the pupil was expelled through his 21st birthday. Minutes of the school board expulsion hearing, a recording of the expulsion hearing and exhibits introduced at the hearing are part of the record.

DISCUSSION

School districts are limited-purpose municipal corporations and have only such powers as are conferred specifically by statute or are necessarily implied therefrom. Iverson v. Union Free High School District, 186 Wis. 342, 353, 202 N.W. 788 (1925). A school board's power to expel students derives from § 120.13(1)(c), which establishes certain categories of offenses that may be the basis for an expulsion and sets out specific procedures that must be followed in the expulsion process.

In reviewing an appeal of an expulsion decision, the Wisconsin Court of Appeals has stated that the scope of the state superintendent's review is limited to that set out in § 120.13(1)(c). In Racine Unified School District v. Thompson, 107 Wis. 2d 657, 667, 321 N.W. 2d 334 (1982), the court of appeals in dicta stated: "The superintendent's review, then, would be one to insure that the school board followed the procedural mandates of subsection (c) concerning notice, right to counsel, etc." Id. In a related context, the court of appeals ruled this dictum has now become "embedded in Wisconsin school law." Madison Metropolitan School District (Lenny G.) v. Wis. D.P.I., 199 Wis. 2d 1, 543 N.W. 2d 843 (1995). It is, therefore, incumbent upon the state superintendent in reviewing an expulsion decision to ensure that the required statutory procedures were followed, that the school board's decision is based upon one of the established statutory grounds, and that the school board is satisfied that the interests of the school district demand the pupil's expulsion.

The appeal letter in this case raises two issues which require consideration. The pupil complains about being expelled until his 21st birthday while the other student involved in the incident only received a 10-day suspension. Because expulsions are considered on a case-by-case basis, the treatment of other students is not relevant to this review. See Aron P. v. Sturgeon Bay School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 341 (December 17, 1997); Nathaniel S. v. Wausau School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 350 (March 25, 1998); and Leo P. v. Whitewater School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 351 (March 31, 1998).

The pupil also states that he does not agree with the length of expulsion and claims that he is unable to enroll in other schools because of this expulsion. Since the authority to “approve, reverse or modify the decision” was conferred upon the state superintendent by 1987 Wis. Act 88, § 3, the state superintendent has consistently declined to modify the length of expulsions. David D. v. Central High School District of Westosha Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 429 (January 25, 2001); Tony R. v. Lake Geneva Joint No. 1 School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 294 (June 24, 1996); Brandon H. v. DeSoto Area School District Board of Education, Decision and Order No. 206 (May 3, 1993). The school board is in the best position to judge the demeanor of witnesses as well as to know and understand what its community requires as a response to school misconduct. It would be inappropriate for me, absent an extraordinary circumstance or a violation of procedural requirements, to second-guess the appropriateness of a school board's determination. In reviewing this case, I do not see the extraordinary circumstance or procedural violation that causes me to modify the pupil's expulsion period.

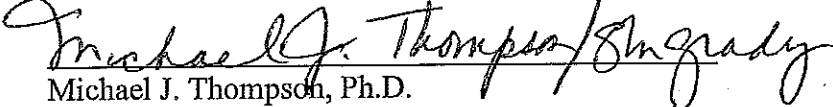

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Based upon my review of the record in this case and the findings set out above, I conclude that the school board did comply with all of the procedural requirements of §120.13(1)(c).

ORDER

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that the expulsion of D I by the Beloit
Turner School District Board of Education is affirmed.

Dated this 25th day of May, 2010

Michael J. Thompson, Ph.D.
Deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction
