The Emerging School Counselor Cohort is an opportunity to:

- Get support, give support, and engage in networking and consultation;
- Increase content knowledge and learn applicable laws and statutes related to your work;
- Gain practical strategies and best practices for school counseling program implementation;
- Discover resources on mental health related topics;
- Tackle your problems of practice and ethical dilemmas;
- Learn from veteran school counselors and experts in the field; and
- Connect with the content area experts and the state school counseling consultant.

Join the learning and conversation and get support in your emerging role... because we all know that learning it is different than living it!
