

The “Power Cord” of School Funding

In the “power cord” of public school funding in Wisconsin, the two biggest “wires” are state aid and local property taxes.

These two sources, added together, can’t overflow each district’s revenue limit – a cap set by law.

Sources of School Funding

Wisconsin Statewide Averages, 2016-17

Source: Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction data

WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION
Tony Evers, PhD, State Superintendent