

Farm to School

Tool: Social Media Post Examples

Students

Facebook

Our lunch menu features fresh acorn squash from the local farm today! Did you know that acorn squash is a type of winter squash? There are other types of winter squashes, including pumpkin, butternut, and spaghetti squash. To find more information on our farm to school program and participating farms, go to [\[link\]](#).

Instagram

Today, these fresh tomatoes from our school garden will be offered on our salad bar!
#SchoolGarden #WISchoolMealsRock

Twitter

For lunch today, we will be serving zesty zucchini from the local farm! #FarmtoSchool
#EatLocal #WISchoolMealsRock

Families
Facebook

Have your students told you about how they are helping grow vegetables in the school garden? When students participate in school gardens, they tend to eat more fruits and vegetables. We will be hosting a family day for families to come see the garden and taste the foods! For more information on our school garden program, go to [\[link\]](#).

Twitter

Peter Piper wasn't the only one who picked peppers! Today, students will be harvesting peppers in the #schoolgarden! The peppers they pick will be featured on our lunch menu next week. #WISchoolMealsRock